To Whom It May Concern:

Young Fine Art Studio has produced two statues for Salt Lake's historic landmarks:

1. McCune's "Wild Boar", which graces the entrance of the mansion.
2. "Molly and Mairin" – a life-size portrait of my daughters which is placed in the lobby of the Walker Mansion. The accurate representation of the girls' likenesses was sculpted in the 19th century style to match the existing interior.

The sculptors Richard Young and Lena Toritch are able to create a high quality artwork to enhance any building.

Sincerely,

Philip G. McCarthy
